Dominion Day Celebration in Tilsonburg.

The natal-day of the Dominion was celebrated with great zim in this village; and we are pleased to know that of the numerous visitors attracted to the place by the amusements advertised for the occasion, not one expressed anything but satisfaction—in fact many were heard to say that the committee of management had more than fulfilled their promises. The actual celebration of the day was commenced shortly after eleven o'clock on the evening of the 30th ult., by a few too eager youths ringing all the bells in town for half an hour—stopping at least fifteen minutes too soon. The short-comings of the bell-ringers were made up, however, by the "artillery company," who kept up a most unearthly din until daybreak, after which, owing either to the exhaustion of the powder or the energies of the artillerists, the peaceable inhabitants were allowed to snatch a few hours sleep.

BASE BALL.

At 9:30 a. m. the match of base ball between the Lyndoch and Tilsonburg Clubs commenced. Only six innings were played, and resulted in a victory for Tilsonburg—the score standing at the close, Tilsonburg, ninety-nine; Lyndoch seventeen. Below is a correct record of the play, with the runs, &c., made by individual members of both clubs:—

This was a very one-sided game, and it might be expected that the Lyndoch club would feel very much dispirited at the result. If they did so, they did not show it by their manner. We never saw a nine accept defeat with greater good humor than on this occasion. So gentlemanly was their conduct throughout, that it was openly remarked on by several persons on the ground. Credit is due to the Tilsonburg nine also for their moderation. They did not display any of the unseemly exultation usually indulged in by the victors on such occasions, and this, doubtless, served to put their opponents more at their ease, and deprive the defeat of its sting.
