Base Ball—A Match Game between Detroit and Hamilton.

Yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, the members of the Detroit Base Ball Club, and the Burlington Base Ball Club of Hamilton, C. W., appeared on the grounds of the Peninsular Cricket Club. The day was all that could be desired, there being a cool refreshing breeze to fan the brows of the contestants. After arranging the preliminaries, the Detroit Club went in for the first innings, which were short lived, the side going out for five runs. The Burlington boys next went in, and came out with three placed to their credit. The Hamiltonians led the score up to the fifth innings, when our boys went in and played with a determination, making seventeen, placing them six ahead of their opponents. When the Hamilton players went in on their last innings, they had sixteen runs to make, to win the game; which was a large gap to fill, and more particularly on the last innings. It appeared like a forlorn hope, and everybody was confident that they would be defeated, but they excelled their own anticipation, and made eighteen runs. The game throughout was the most exciting one that has ever been played in this city. Mr. Folsom of the Detroit Club carried the laurels of the day making ten, the largest score, and that too without a hand out. The score was as follws:
