DETROIT, Aug. 15, 1867.

The great Base Ball Tournament is now going on, and is exciting a very great deal of interest. The attendance of strangers is very large, and there appears a very great desire to see the Canadians play. The matches were arranged as follows: Ingersoll vs. Ann Arbor Juniors; Hamilton vs. Port Huron; Woodstock vs. Alleghany, Pa. It is expected that the Tournament will not close until Tuesday next. To-day the attendance on the ground numbered quite four thousand. There is the greatest excitement on account of the international matches. Ingersoll beat the Ann Arbor Juniors 40 to 25. Hamilton beat the Welkin Club, of Port Huron. The following is the score of the Hamilton players: Mason, 3; Nicolls, 3; Young, 3; Shuttleworth, 2; McCann, 2; Secord, 2; Atkinson, 2; Sweetman, 1; Sunley, 1; total, 19. The Welkin Club made only 10, giving the game to Hamilton by a majority of 9.—The Welkins played three innings; Hamilton two, and six runs on third, no men being out, when, the Welkin's pitcher being disabled, they gave up the game. The Woodstock Club was beaten by the Alleghanies 55 to 35. The death of Mr. Harris, of the Woodstock Club has very materially weakened their force. To-morrow we will know against which Club we will next be pitted. The weather is delightful.
